India - USA

Mr. Singh Goes to Washington

Ashley J Tellis India is viewed by the White House as mostly peripheral: important in itself no doubt, but no longer a pressing geopolitical priority { HYPERLINK

The Western Front

The Mumbai attacks and Indo-U.S. relations

C. Christine Fair The Lashkar and other so-called "Kashmiri" groups are not just India's problem; rather, they are the problem of the entire international community which in the wake of Mumbai has embraced this challenge. { HYPERLINK

One year after the Mumbai bomb attacks, the threat is as great as ever

Praveen Swami Dr Singh could authorise missile strikes against jihadist bases on Pakistan's side of the Line of Control. Or he could order India's secret services to stage retaliatory attacks in Pakistan, or to assassinate key jihadists { HYPERLINK
